

Call for Papers

4th Asia-Pacific Symposium on Emotions in Worklife
Southbank Campus,
Griffith University, Brisbane, Australia
Friday 27th November 2009

(Closing date for submissions is 16 October 2009)

This year the 4th Asia Pacific Symposium on Emotions in Worklife* is being hosted and sponsored by the Research Centre for Work Organisation and Wellbeing, Griffith Business School, Griffith University, Brisbane, Australia. The symposium is a day-long, semi-formal meeting of scholars interested in the study of emotions in work settings and will be held on Friday the 27th of November 2009.

The format of the symposium includes a keynote address and will feature paper presentations and roundtable sessions for the discussion of poster presentations. Morning tea and luncheon will be provided to all participants. Expressions of interest are sought from those who would like to attend a post-symposium dinner at a restaurant in the Southbank Parklands precinct. Further details will be made available when registrations open, however, please indicate whether you are interested in staying for dinner in your covering email when you submit your paper.

There is no registration fee for attending the symposium.

Procedure for Submitting Your Paper:

Submissions for the round table (Poster) session should be forwarded as an abstract of between 200 and 400 words describing your project/paper, as well as the paper title, author(s), affiliations, and contact details. Posters will be discussed briefly in moderated roundtable sessions following poster viewing. In keeping with the roundtable format, we welcome papers describing 'work in progress' or developmental papers.

Groups also may wish to propose an innovative panel, hot topic discussion session, or short symposium bearing in mind that we wish to use our limited time in the way that will benefit participants most and advance their research. Group proposals should provide a 400 to 800 word outline of the topic including a short description of each group members' contribution.

Submit your abstract or proposal as an MS Word file (.doc), with double-spaced text and a 12-pt font to the Editor, Maree Boyle (M.Boyle@griffith.edu.au). All abstracts / proposals will be published in a conference publication.

* The symposium is actually the 7th conference in a series of symposia originally named the "Brisbane Symposium on Emotions and Worklife".

Travel Support Scholarships:

Doctoral students submitting papers to the symposium may also apply for a Travel Support Scholarship (up to $500 per successful application). A limited number of scholarships are available and will be assessed based on individual need and the quality of the paper submission. To apply for a Travel Support Scholarship:

Provide an abstract of approximately 1000 words in MSWord format (.doc) to the Editor, Maree Boyle (M.Boyle@griffith.edu.au). Paper title, author(s), affiliations, and contact details must also be included within the file.

When sending your submission please include a brief statement in your email outlining how a scholarship would assist you to attend the symposium. Please also ensure that you insert APSEW - Travel Support Scholarship Applicant in the email subject heading.

The closing date for all submissions and for the travel scholarships is Friday 16 October, 2009.

Participants (including Travel Scholarship applicants) will be notified of their acceptance by Friday 30th October, 2009. All accepted papers will be published in the Symposium Book of Abstracts. If you require any further information regarding the submission process, please feel free to contact any member of the organising committee:
