

WHY CHOOSE UQ?

WHY CHOOSE UQ?

The University of Queensland enjoys a long tradition of success
– here are some excellent reasons to make UQ your university in 2010.

GLOBAL REPUTATION

When you choose UQ you are choosing a truly world-class university.

UQ is:

- consistently ranked alongside the best universities in the world, and in 2008 was ranked one of the top 50 universities in the world according to the World University Rankings, (compiled by the United Kingdom's Times Higher Education Supplement-QS)
- developing world's-best practice and quality through strong research and development initiatives, excellent academic programs and affiliations with other internationally renowned universities
- a founding member of the leading Australian universities' Group of Eight (Go8), which collectively enrolls a third of all university students in Australia, conducts 70 percent of all university research in Australia, and boasts a full-time employment rate almost five percent higher than other Australian universities

- one of the only Australian members of the select international network of research-intensive universities, Universitas 21
- ranked among the top 20 universities in the Asia Pacific and the top 150 worldwide by the 2008 Academic Rankings of World Universities study conducted by Shanghai Jiao Tong University
- one of Australia's best universities, according to the independent analysis by The Good Universities Guide, and the only Queensland university to be awarded the maximum five-star rating for research grants and research intensity.

EXCELLENT TEACHERS

UQ's award-winning teachers employ innovative methods to meet the academic and professional needs of students.

We have won more national teaching awards than any other university in the country. In 2008, UQ was presented with two more Australian Teaching and Learning Council Awards for Teaching Excellence, and Awards for Programs that Enhance Learning.

UQ has:

- more than 2400 highly qualified academic staff, many of whom are recognised internationally as leaders in their field
- a student-centred approach to learning, enhanced by flexible options, a strong online program and innovative teaching modes
- teachers with a 100 percent success rate in the Australian Teaching and Learning Council's Citations for Outstanding Contributions, which recognise teaching excellence in higher education.

FIRST-CLASS SERVICES

UQ provides excellent academic and personal support services.

The University's most recent Student Experience Survey confirmed high levels of student satisfaction with the University and the academic facilities available to students, thanks to:

- the UQ Library, Queensland's largest academic library, with extended opening hours and more than 1400 computers (see page 16)
- Student Centres on each campus providing assistance with a range of administrative matters (see page 17)
- a range of free and confidential personal support services (see page 19)
- free IT support services, which are available to assist students throughout their studies (see page 16).
- the University's Health Services (UHS), an accredited general practice, which delivers high quality healthcare to The University of Queensland community.

VALUABLE ONGOING CONNECTION

UQ encourages graduates to keep in touch through the alumni networks.

We love to hear success stories from our graduates, and maintaining excellent relationships with past students is mutually beneficial.

Whether you studied here for a semester on exchange or completed a full degree, we are proud to call you one of our alumni.

Graduates can stay in touch with their discipline and colleagues through a variety of events and activities organised by UQ Alumni groups throughout the world.

As a member of the UQ Alumni community you will enjoy a lifetime of experiences, with opportunities to maintain and renew friendships and engage in social, educational and intellectual activities within the UQ community.

WHY CHOOSE UQ?

2006 Australian of the Year, and director of Diamantina Institute for Cancer, Immunology and Metabolic Medicine UQ's Professor Ian Frazer

"I believe my UQ degree will definitely assist me in securing a job as it is indeed a unique university which prepares you aptly with a strong foundation in your studies. I have access to lecturers who are active researchers as well, and there has been plenty of support from lecturers and peer-assisted study sessions to complement my learning."

LEADING RESEARCH

UQ is one of the top three research universities in Australia.

UQ researchers constantly push the boundaries to achieve world-acclaimed breakthroughs. We are leaders in industry collaboration and research funding for Australian universities.

As a UQ student, you will have the opportunity to study with some of the world's best researchers.

Recently celebrated research achievements at UQ include:

- the world's first cervical cancer vaccine, co-founded by Professor Ian Frazer, which will save the lives of millions of women around the world
- nanotechnologist Professor Max Lu's listing by Phoenix Weekly in 2006 as one of the top 50 most influential Chinese in the world.

UQ has created more world-class research institutes than any other Australian university (see pages 14-15) and has one of the highest participation levels of any academic institution in Australia in the Cooperative Research Centres (CRC) Program.
