

School of Social Work & Applied Human Sciences presents:

Master of Counselling Conference

Would you like to learn more about us?

What we do?

What makes us different?

If you are:

- ◆ An experienced practitioner who is interested in further study
- ◆ A student considering counselling as a profession
- ◆ Those with an interest in the employment and professional development of a counsellor
- ◆ Anyone who would like to know more about our program

We invite you to attend:

- What: A free mini-conference (3 hours) and morning tea, where we will showcase our counselling program
- When: Friday, November 30th 2007
- Time: 9am-12.30pm
- Where: University of Queensland
Chamberlain Building (#35)
Rooms 111/112
- RSVP: 26 November
a.haines@uq.edu.au or 3365 2068

The program coordinator Dr. Judith Murray will be presenting the underlying philosophy of this integrated program and various course coordinators will briefly introduce you to a number of core courses. Your questions and clarifications are invited. Some of the topics to be covered:

- ◆ The role of theory in counselling
- ◆ Why counselling skills work
- ◆ Counselling more than one in the room
- ◆ Counselling and Mental Health
- ◆ Violence issues and Counselling
- ◆ Counselling as a profession

This will be followed by a brief tour and demonstration of the counselling AV facilities.

Program literature for all of our postgraduate programs will be available.